R U L E S .

1.—THAT the Society shall be called the RECORD SOCIETY, and shall have for its object the transcribing and publishing of Original Documents relating to the counties of Lancaster and Chester.

2.—That the affairs of the Society shall be governed by a Council, consisting of a President and twelve Members, the former of whom shall be annually elected by the Council.

3.—That three Members of the Council shall form a quorum.

4.—That the subscription of Members of the Society shall be £1. 1s. per annum, which shall entitle them to the publications for the year; but any Member whose subscription shall be two years in arrear shall thereupon be removed from the Society, and shall not be re-admitted until all arrears have been paid. The number of Members is limited to 350.

5.—That the subscriptions shall be due on the 30th of June in each year, and that no work shall be issued to any Member whose subscription is in arrear.

6.—That an Annual Meeting of the Society shall be held in the month of July, of which due notice shall be sent to all the Members. At this meeting a Report of the work of the Society, with a Statement of the Income and Expenditure, shall be presented. These shall be annually published, together with a List of Members and the Rules of the Society.

7.—That so long as the funds of the Society permit, two volumes at least shall be issued to the Members in each year.

8.—That no copies of the publications of the Society shall be sold to non-members, except at an increased price to be fixed by the Council.

9.—That no payment shall be made to any person for editing any work for the Society, but that the Editor of each volume shall be entitled to twenty copies of the work so edited by him.

10.—That the Treasurer's accounts shall be audited by two Members of the Society, who shall be elected at the Annual Meeting.

11.—No alteration shall be made in any of the above Rules except at the Annual General Meeting. Notice of any proposed alterations must be sent to the Secretary a month before such General Meeting.

12.—That a Meeting of the Council of the Society shall be called by the Secretary at least once in every three months.

The Annual Subscription of £1. 1s., entitling the Members to all the Volumes issued for that year, may be paid to the Hon. Treasurer, or to the credit of the Society at their Bankers, the Manchester and Liverpool District Banking Company, Limited, at any of their branches.

Report for the Year 1883-84.

Read at the Annual Meeting, held (by adjournment from July) on November 4, 1884.

THE two volumes due for the year 1883-84 have been duly issued to the members. The first of these, Volume IX. of the Society's series, is entitled, "The Rolls of Burgesses at the Guilds Merchant of the Borough of Preston, 1397 to 1682, from the original Rolls in the Archives of the Preston Corporation," and has been edited by Mr. W. A. Abram, author of the "History of Blackburn," "Memorials of the Preston Guilds," &c. The idea of printing these valuable Rolls has been more than once entertained during the past thirty years; but it has been reserved for this Society to carry the idea into execution, and by so doing to prevent the loss of the information there contained, either by fire or by the gradual decay of the documents themselves. The earliest Roll now preserved is dated 1397, the next is 1415, the one following 1459, then 1542, from which time down to 1682 the Guild meetings were held every twenty years; and the records of these meetings are in a fair state of preservation, and are here printed. These Rolls contain the names of all those who were admitted freemen of the town; and, as the sons of all freemen were entitled to this privilege, they supply an immense amount of genealogical information relating to North Lancashire families of which there is little or no other record. Mr. Abram, in a very full Introduction of some forty pages, has supplied an interesting historical account of these Guilds, and has illustrated the great value of these Rolls in many ways. To take one example, out of many hundred similar ones, from the Guild Roll of 1642: Henry Butler of Rawcliffe, Esq., was enrolled with his eight sons—Richard, his son and heir, William, Edmund, Thwaites, Henry, Edward, Cuthbert, and Marmaduke, and also the seven sons of Richard his son and heir apparent, viz., Henry, Richard, John, William, Nicholas, Robert, and Theobald, making in all no less than 15 members of this old Lancashire family entered at that one Guild. Mr. Abram has also compiled a very full Index, occupying fifty closely-printed pages, of all the names mentioned on these Rolls, as well as one of the various localities there given. The Rolls for the years 1702, 1722, 1742, 1762, and 1782 would form another volume, which may possibly be printed in a few years' time.

The second volume issued during the year, Vol. X. of the Society's series, is entitled "A List of the Lancashire Wills proved within the Archdeaconry of Richmond, and now preserved in Somerset House, London, from A.D. 1457 to 1680." Edited by Lt.-Col. Fishwick, F.S.A. When the Indexes to the Wills at Chester, 1545 to 1620 and 1621 to 1650 were printed by this Society a few years since, it was stated that most of the North Lancashire Wills had been proved at Richmond in Yorkshire, and that permission had been obtained from Sir James Hannen, the President of the Probate Division of Her Majesty's High Court of Justice, to have the Lancashire entries extracted and printed. The Richmond Wills, as they are termed, were transferred from Richmond to Somerset House, London, in 1861, where they have been admirably arranged and indexed. In this volume "every name is given which occurs in the calendars for Amounderness and Furness deaneries; but, as regards Kendal and Lonsdale deaneries, which extend to other counties besides Lancashire, the names relating to that county have had to be selected according to the descriptions of the deceased." When the Wills came to be arranged, it was ascertained that by some unlucky accident a large number of the Wills for the deanery of Amounderness, prior to the year 1650, had been lost, and every effort to trace them has proved ineffectual. At the recent sale of the Townsley MSS., however, a volume was acquired by the British Museum, which contained abstracts of 2,279 Lancashire Wills, almost all of which are for the deanery of Amounderness, ranging in date from 1531 to 1652 and representing a portion of the missing Wills. This interesting discovery was made as this volume was being printed, and Col. Fishwick was able to incorporate the names of these abstracts in his list, distinguishing them from the others by printing them in italics. It appears that the original Wills (of which these are abstracts) were delivered in 1670 to Christopher Towneley by Captain Brabent, of Preston, but who he was or what has become of those Wills are still matters of conjecture. Including these abstracts, the list of Wills, here printed, contains over 14,000 entries, arranged alphabetically, the various deaneries being distinguished by initial letters. They relate entirely to North Lancashire, and will be found of the greatest possible utility to all who are concerned in historical and genealogical inquiries connected with that district.

Vol. XI. will most probably be the continuation of this Index of the Lancashire Wills, proved at Richmond, from 1681 to 1748, and, like its predecessor, will be edited by Lt.-Col. Fishwick. A portion of the transcripts has been made, and when these are completed the volume can be sent to press.

Vol. XII. will contain a series of Miscellaneous Records selected from the following :—

- (1) An early Homage Roll of the Manor of Warrington, co. Lancaster. Edited and translated by Mr. W. Beamont.
- (2) Annales Cestrienses, or "The Chronicles of St. Werburgh," a Latin Chronicle, commencing A.D. 594, and coming down to 1295, believed to have been written by Simon, Abbot of St. Werburgh, Chester, who died in that year. This was transcribed from a copy of the original in the Bishop's Registry, Chester, by the late Canon Raines, and will be edited and translated by Mr. R. C. Christie.
- (3) Lists of Lancashire Clergy, in the years 1619, 1621, 1624, 1634, 1635, 1636, and 1639. These lists were made by Dr. John Bridgeman, Bishop of Chester, in his private Ledger, now in the possession of his descendant, the Earl of Bradford. They will be edited by the Hon. and Rev. Canon Bridgeman, rector of Wigan.
- (4) Lists of the gentry of Lancashire and Chester, who refused to accept the order of Knighthood at the Coronation of Charles I., with illustrative Documents.
- (5) The Subsidy Roll for Salford Hundred, co. Lancaster, 1541.
- (6) The Subsidy Roll for Salford Hundred, co. Lancaster, 1622.
- (7) The Subsidy Roll for Leyland Hundred, co. Lancaster, together with a Recusant Roll for the same Hundred, 1628.
- (8) A List of the Freeholders in Lancashire in 1600, arranged under Hundreds.
- (9) List of Justices of the Peace for Cheshire in 1601 and 1620; and for Lancashire in 1682, &c., &c.

These latter documents, 4 to 9, will be edited by Mr. J. P. Earwaker.

This volume, it was hoped, would have been ready this year, but some unexpected delay took place, and the original of the Annales Cestrienses, long believed to have been missing, having been found in the fine collection of MSS. at Mostyn Hall, it became necessary to compare it very carefully with Canon Raines' MS. About 150 pages of this volume are in type, and it will be proceeded with as rapidly as possible. Many other documents of local interest have been noted for transcription, and will appear in a second volume of Miscellanea.

The following is the complete list of the Society's publications up to the present time :—

Two volumes have been issued in each year, except twice, when a single volume of more than average thickness has been substituted for the two volumes.

The Council have the pleasure to announce that Mr. James Hall, of Willaston, near Nantwich, will edit for the Society an original document of great local interest, relating to the Civil War in Cheshire, written by Mr. Thomas Malbon, of Nantwich, who was living in or near that town, and died in 1658. The original MS. is preserved at Conover Hall, co. Salop, the residence of Reginald Cholmondeley, Esq., who kindly permitted Mr. Hall to take a full transcript of it. This manuscript is now believed to have been one to which Mr. Edward Burghall, the vicar of Acton, was greatly indebted in the preparation of what is known as "Burghall's Diary"; but as this contains some curious variations, it is suggested that this Diary should also be printed in the same volume. "Burghall's Diary" was printed about 100 years ago, but the printed copy is full of mistakes, and contains many important omissions. A full copy of the original is in the possession of Mr. Earwaker. Mr. Hall, who has recently published a very valuable History of Nantwich, has there given many extracts from Malbon's Diary, which show its great interest and importance as a contemporaneous record of a period now exciting so much attention.

The Council venture to hope that the first volume of the Marriage Licences at Chester, 1606 to 1615, may shortly be taken in hand. It has been long delayed owing to the illness of Mr. Thomas Hughes, of Chester, F.S.A., who had transcribed about one half of the volume before he was taken ill. It will form a volume of very great interest to all genealogists.

Mr. J. A. C. Vincent's Report on the Lancashire Subsidy Rolls is not yet completed, but it is hoped it may be finished before long.

It has also been suggested to the Council that a volume containing a full account of the various MSS. relating to Lancashire and Cheshire, contained in the various public libraries in the two counties, with an analysis of the contents of each volume, would be a very suitable publication for the Society to undertake. This would include and be an Index to the 45 folio volumes of the Raines MSS., now in the Chetham Library, the Piccope, Palmer, Barritt, and other local MSS. there, as well as those in the Free Libraries of Manchester, Liverpool, Salford, Warrington, Preston, Wigan, &c., many of which are full of very valuable local information, but owing to the want of indexes are but little known, and not nearly so frequently consulted as they might be.

The following works have also been suggested to the Council for publication :—

Institutions to Lancashire and Cheshire Churches from the Episcopal Registers at Lichfield and Chester.

List of Cheshire Inquisitiones post Mortem, with Calendars of Heirs.

Inquisitions of Proofs of Age, Liveries, and Grants of Wardship, Marriage, &c.

A Handy List of all the Lancashire Inquisitiones post Mortem, the Subsidy Rolls, and other Public Records.

The Chartulary of the Abbey of St. Werburgh at Chester.

Royalist Composition Papers relating to Lancashire and Cheshire.

Abstracts of Wills from Chester and Richmond.

A continuation of the Index to the Wills at Chester from the year 1660.

Early Manorial Court Rolls relating to the two counties.

Local Parish Registers.

&c. &c. &c.

Although several new members have joined the Society, during the past year, there have been several removals by death and in consequence of the non-payment of subscriptions, and the number of members is now below what the Council think it should be. By a resolution adopted at the last meeting the number of members is now limited to 350, as in the case of many other similar Societies, and the Council trust that the present members will kindly use their influence with their friends to induce them to join the Society, as with a full list of 350 members the operations of the Society could be much extended.

☞ The Council desire to direct attention to Rule 5, which enacts that no volume shall be delivered to any member whose subscription is in arrear.

The Balance-sheet, showing the receipts and expenditure of the Society for the current year, is given on the next page.

GENERAL PREFACE.

HIS volume contains a number of separate Records, relating to the counties of Lancaster and Chester, which appeared to the Council to be well worthy of being printed. Each has been edited by a responsible Editor, but the pagination of the volume is consecutive and there is one General Index. The Council hope to present similar volumes to the Members from time to time, and will be glad to hear of any Records of a similar character, which may seem to merit permanent preservation in print. Any such entrusted to them will be carefully cared for and returned in due course.

INTRODUCTION.

We'll do thee homage and be ruled by thee
As our commander.

THE original from which this work is printed, though called a roll, is contained in a few sheets of foolscap paper, stitched together in a parchment cover, which has once formed part of an old deed of the time of Henry VIII. The whole, except the last three pages, is a holograph in the handwriting of its compiler, Sir William Plumtre, of whom a few particulars will be found in a later part of this Introduction. In a note which he has prefixed to his work he tells us that he meant it to remain of record for the heirs (pro hæredibus) of Sir Thomas Boteler, from which it follows, as the heir is the successor of the dead and not of the living (nemo est hæres viventis), that it must have been written after the good knight Sir Thomas Boteler's death. It will be evident to the most casual reader that the roll must have been transcribed from some original, kept ledger-wise in an account book; many of the entries referring to events occurring at different times from that to which the principal entry relates. Thus, when it is said that John Ashton, of Penketh, did homage for his lands in Penketh on 11 April 22 Henry VII., he paid his relief for the same on 11th June in the same year. Another circumstance which goes to confirm the fact that the roll is a transcript is that three or more of the entries bear date in the 24th instead of the 21st year of King Henry VII.'s reign, a mistake which it is more easy to account for as occurring in a transcript than in the original. There is also one entry dated on the 26th August 24 Henry VII., the king having died before that day in the last year of his reign.— This entry must be a mistake.

The Roll, which begins on the 18th July, 1491, and ends on 11th July, 1517, extends over a period of twenty-six years wanting only seven days ; it seems to have been kept during all that time by the compiler. The three concluding pages of the roll, all relating to events and circumstances of Queen Elizabeth's reign, must have been written by some other hand after the death of the compiler. As muniments of feudal times, rolls, such as this, are met with less frequently than might be expected, if we consider how numerous the homages were, which must have been paid to every great landholder while the feudal system lasted. At the time of this Homage Roll the manor of Warrington included a great extent of country, containing within its circuit a considerable number of mesne manors, the particulars of which are given in "The Annals of the Lords of Warrington," one of the volumes printed by the Chetham Society. In that work most if not all the homages in the present Roll are alluded to from a similar roll or paper in the possession of the Right honourable Lord Lilford, the representative of the Boteler estates. His Lordship's copy of the roll differs a little from the work now printed, the original of which is in the possession of Colonel Ireland-Blackburne of Hale, by whose kind permission it is now printed, for that gives a few homages of the year 1490, of which we extract the following account from the "Annals of the Lords of Warrington" (page 349): "The 13 January 5 Henry VII., 1490, must have been a red-letter day in the annals of Bewsey, for Sir Thomas Boteler then, attended by the honourable Thomas Hawardyn, lieutenant justice of Chester ; Hamon Bruche, Richard Birkenhead, Henry Garnet, esquires, and others, with Henry Doker, his seneschal, as master of the ceremonies, sat to receive the homage of the following tenants and feudal retainers:—Randle Sankey, who was the first among them, did homage and paid x^s for his relief for a carucate of land, being the tenth part of a knight's fee, in Little Sankey, which his father, of the same name, then lately dead, had held under the house of Bewsey. The next tenant who appeared and did homage was Hugh del Bruche, of the neighbouring hamlet of that name, who had lately succeeded to the lands which his father, Henry del Bruche, had held in Sankey and Orford. Another tenant, Richard Ratcliffe, appeared and paid his relief, but for some reason he had his homage respited to a future day ; and then appeared two other tenants, John Ratcliffe and Mathew Sale, who paid their relief and did fealty, but did no homage, probably because they did not hold by knight's service. Many persons of consequence were present, and amongst them were Thomas, first Earl of Derby ; Thomas Bretherton, Baron of the King's Exchequer at Lancaster ; Richard Sneyde, Recorder of Chester ; the Honourable Thomas Hawarden ; and John Grymesdyche, esquire."

On 14 November 8 Henry VIII., 1516, Sir Henry Kighley, knight, as we learn from the roll now published, paid for the relief of the lands he held in Bedford under Sir Thomas Boteler xxxiijs iiij^d in angels of gold. These angels of gold must have been reckoned at 6s. 8d., and not at 10s. the angel, unless they were ill angels, such as Chief Justice Gascoigne in Henry VI. (Part II. act i. sc. 2) called Falstaff ; to which that fat knight replied, "Your ill angel is light, but I hope he that looks upon me will take me without weighing."

The other homages recorded in the present Roll were rendered in a great variety of places,—in the stately towers of Lathom ; at Bewsey, the venerable mansion of Sir Thomas Boteler ; at Hollinfare, the seat of the Masseys ; in the manor court-house at Warrington ; in the priory or house of the Austin friars there, and some other places ; and among those who were present to witness them at different times we may mention some historic and knightly names, as, Thomas, first Earl of Derby ; Sir Humphry Coningsby, Chief Justice of England ; Sir William Fairfax, one of the king's justices ; Sir Richard Bold, knight ; Sir Thomas Booth, knight ; Thomas Sutton, Seneschal of Sion and one of the founders of Brasenose ; Thomas Shirewood and Henry Sergeant, jurisperiti ; the officials who took part in the proceedings were Humphry Madder, Thomas Shay or Shaw, and Henry Doker, bailiffs of the court.

Sir Thomas Boteler, knight, the baron of Warrington, for whom this Homage Roll was kept, was the representative of a family of his name, who had held the barony of Warrington, which, from the number of its dependent manors, might almost be called a lordship or honour, nearly from the time of the Norman Conquest. His ancestors had shown themselves as ready to do homage, where it was due, as to receive it when it was their own. Among the services required by the king to be done at Carlisle in 1299 by the Prior of Coventry at Eccleshale, where the Botelers had lands, they offered to perform their service of two knights' fees, by sending John Boteler and three other persons, with horses and arms, to perform what was due ("Record Commission," vol. ii. p. 212). The knight, to whom the homages recorded in this roll by his trusty and faithful chaplain of thirty years were made, resided at Bewsey, a venerable mansion, rebuilt by himself within the same moated site where his ancestors had been seated from the time of Henry III. This their manor place and the head of their barony has found commendation from a native bard in his "Bewsey," a poem of considerable merit, and which he commences thus :—

While poets touch'd with Phœbus' sacred fire
 Have sung of Grongar or of Cooper's Hill,
 My humbler muse with fond delight shall stray
 To scenes familiar, to the peaceful spot
 Less famed perhaps, but not less dear, shall sing
 Of thee, O Bewsey, and, with raptured eye,
 Hang on thy rural charms and sylvan scenes.

(FITCHETT'S "Bewsey.")

In the year 1491, when this Homage Roll commences, Sir Thomas Boteler was about thirty years of age, and though he was not of age when the Wars of the Roses, in which some of his ancestors had borne a part, began, the storm which that war had raised had not so entirely ceased that he could lay aside his armour and cultivate, what he loved better, the arts of peace. We shall see, however, that when duty called him he could fill his part in war as well as in peace, and prove himself in both haud indignus magnorum avorum. Throughout his whole career he was held in much regard by his contemporaries, always showing his love of justice, and being ever a trusted peace-maker between such of his friends as had quarrelled. While he was growing into manhood, Margaret, the good Countess of Richmond the king's mother, and at that time the consort of Thomas, the first Earl of Derby, was in the habit of taking into the halls of Lathom such young men of promise as she knew, and there affording them the advantage of an Oxford professor, whom she maintained in her household. Amongst these élèves were Oldham, afterwards Bishop of Exeter; Smith, afterwards Bishop of Lincoln; and Sir Thomas Boteler, each of whom showed the benefit they had received by founding a grammar school, two of which, Manchester, founded by Oldham, and Warrington by Sir Thomas Boteler, are still flourishing institutions. Sir Thomas Boteler profited much by the literature which the recent discovery of printing had given to the world, and his autograph, by its beauty, might excite the envy of any modern scribe. Sir Thomas Boteler, who, at the age of ten years, had succeeded to the great estates of his ancestors by the death of his brother, Sir William, who had fallen fighting on the side of Lancaster in the field of Tewkesbury, if he had cast his thoughts backwards might have been filled with mournful reflections on the mortality of his race; his great-grandfather had been cut off, when but a young man, at the siege of Harfleur, where he was with the king in 1415; his grandfather, Sir John Boteler, died on 14 September, 1430, not without suspicion of foul means; his father, who had fought at Blore in 1459, died on 26 February, 1463, and over his death there hangs a mystery; and Sir William Boteler, the elder brother of Sir Thomas Boteler, died, as we have seen, on the field of Tewkesbury in 1471, and thus, in fifty-six years, four of his predecessors in the estate had disappeared from the scene, a rate of mortality which even in that age seems most unusual.

The taste of Sir Thomas led him to prefer spending his life at home and among his own people, employed in the duties of the magistracy and the other duties which become a country gentleman. Although he was well known as a peace-maker of the neighbourhood, he was never backward in defending his just rights, as this Homage Roll in several instances shows, and he was not afraid to assert his right to his franchises of fairs and markets, even when these were attacked by so powerful a noble as the second Earl of Derby, and when the earl with his long purse had retained every counsel at the Lancashire assizes to appear against him. The gates of Janus, too, were not always closed in Sir Thomas's time, and though he loved peace he buckled on his armour and made ready for war when it was necessary. He suspected the Duke of Gloucester, and declined to attend his summons to be present at the coronation of the young prince, Edward V. ; but when the duke had thrown off the mask and usurped the crown himself, and his dreaded foe Richmond was in the field, great as his courage was, it was shaken by superstitious fears, and, quoting the story as our immortal dramatist gives it, he said—

Henry the Sixth
Did prophesy that Richmond should be king
When Richmond was a little peevish boy.

And again, he said—

When that I was in Exeter
The mayor in his courtesy shew'd me the castle,
And called it Rougemont, at which name I started,
Because a bard of Ireland did tell me
I should not live long after I saw Richmond.

But when the crisis was at hand the Earl of Derby, and with him Sir Thomas Boteler, at the head of a large force marched to Bosworth and shared in the victory which cost Richard his life and his crown, and placed the latter on the head of Henry VII., to the great joy of the kingdom. Sir Thomas on that day there won the spurs of knighthood.

In 1495, when the new king and his consort Elizabeth of York were making a progress to the north to visit the Countess of Richmond, the king's mother, and her husband the Earl of Derby, at Lathom, Sir Thomas Boteler and a numerous body of knights and gentlemen with their retainers assembled on the 28th July to welcome the king and queen as they passed over the new bridge at Warrington, which the earl at his own expense had just built and completed in honour of the royal visit.

On the 5th March, 1505, the king, by letters patent, made Sir Thomas a knight of the king's body, "miles," as the writ has it, "pro corpore nostro," granting him at the same time the forestership of the forests of Simondswood, Croxteth, and Toxteth, and also the office of parker of the forests of Croxteth and Toxteth.

On the 26th August, 6 Henry VIII., Sir Thomas is styled, in a charter of that date, Baroun de Warrington.

Early in September, 1513, the troubles on the Scottish border roused the North of England to take arms, and Sir Thomas buckled on his armour, and marched with many of his neighbours to take part in the war. His chaplain, the compiler of the Homage Roll, who attended the wounded and dying, and who gave thanks to Heaven for the victory gained at Flodden, or, as he calls it, at Brynestone Moor, on the 9th September, does not tell us of the heavy losses sustained by our northern men in the fight. Amongst Sir Thomas Boteler's followers who there fell were the following:— (1) Thomas Whethill, of Great Sankey, who, after being wounded in the battle, died at Newcastle-upon-Tyne, leaving a widow, who, unable to survive him, died soon afterwards, leaving an infant son. (2) Henry Sale, of Bedford, who was slain in the same battle, left an only daughter of the age of four years, his heir, whose wardship and marriage were sold by Sir Thomas Boteler for forty pounds. Besides these, who are mentioned in the Homage Roll as having fallen in the fight, it is probable that (3) Richard de Rixton, whose brother did homage for his lands in the following March, had died of the wounds he brought with him from Flodden, and that (4) Thomas Sankey, one of Sir Thomas Boteler's archers, also fell in the battle.

These were enough to fall in one knight's retinue, but others of a higher rank, and many of them Sir Thomas's neighbours, also fell, and amongst them were—

(1) Sir Bryan Tunstall, of Thurland Castle, of whom the poet says—

Tunstall lies dead upon the field,
His life-blood stains his spotless shield.

- (2) Sir Thomas Venables, the baron of Kinderton.
- (3) Sir William Handford, of Handford, knight.
- (4) Sir John Booth, of Barton, knight.

(5) Christopher Savage, mayor of Macclesfield (Robson's "Flodden Field," lines 504-5.)

(6) John Bostock, esquire, in the retinue of the Abbot of Vale Royal.

(7) James Holt, esquire, of Stubley.

(8) Robert Bebbington, esquire, of Bebbington.

(9) William, Randle, James, John, and Charles, his nephews; an unusual fatality from the same family in one battle.

(10) Robert Fouleshurst, esquire, of Crewe.

(11) Thomas Maisteron, esquire, of Nantwich, in the retinue of the Abbot of Vale Royal, and

(12) Sir Anthony Wingfield, who is commemorated in this epitaph:—

Sir Anthony did bravely fight and die,
Of Wingfield's sons the famed Sir Anthony;
But death he counted mickle gain, sith he
Over the Scots did gain the victory.

The reward which Sir Thomas Boteler gained from his share in the field at Flodden was that his pennon was converted into a banner, and he himself became a banneret; a reward which must have been of small account when weighed against the loss of so many of his friends and retainers. At Flodden his chaplain must have found such consolation as we are told of in "Marmion":—

A pious man, whom duty brought
To dubious verge of battle fought,
To shrive the dying, bless the dead!

As the feudal superior of the Blundells of Ince, Sir Thomas Boteler sued William Molyneux, who had disputed his right to the wardship and marriage of James, the infant heir of Thomas Blundell. Dodsworth, the antiquary, has recorded this dispute ("Annals of the Lords of Warrington," p. 389) without informing us how it ended; but this information is supplied by this Homage Roll now published (pages 31, 33).

On the 29th June, 1515, Sir Thomas granted to certain trustees the advowson of his parish church of Warrington, in order that on the next avoidance they should present thereto his well-beloved priest and chaplain Sir Will. Plumtre for the good love, zeal, and favour he bore him, and to the intent that he should remember him in his prayers ("Annals of the Lords of Warrington," p. 590).

Our ancestors in old times very frequently put off the making of their wills until warned by serious sickness that their end was near, and such hasty instruments, often nuncupative and uncertain, led to frequent disputes in law. Sir Thomas Boteler, however, who respected the maxim, Respice finem, made his will as soon as he had attained to man's estate; but in 1520, when he was approaching his grand climacteric, he made another, dated on the 10th August in that year, which is set out at length in the "Annals of the Lords of Warrington" (p. 405 et seq.); and this will, except by a codicil, dated 27th February, 1522, by which he founded and endowed the Warrington Free Grammar School, remained unaltered at his death, which happened on 27th April, 1522.

Of Sir William Plumtre's birthplace, family, or origin, the writer has obtained no information whatever. His family name is quite unknown in the neighbourhood; but, rare as the name is, another Sir William Plumtre, a priest and chaplain also like himself, and called "one of Queen Mary's old priests," occurs in history as having taken part in the northern insurrection of 1569, and paid the penalty for it with his life. (Sharp's "Memorials of the Rebellion," Surtees Society, pp. 133-140). Sir William, the faithful friend who survived his patron, the good old knight, must have been born about the year 1465, and when he was about thirty he was made rector of Thornton-le-Moors, in Cheshire, and he held that, which was his only preferment, until 1545, and as he died in that year, having held Thornton for fifty years, he must have died, at least, an octogenarian. As he had served Sir Thomas Boteler during his life, so the old knight desired to retain his services after his death, and he therefore made him an executor of his will; and, not content to give him that dry office, he willed that his old chaplain should enjoy for his life certain lands in Crophill Boteler, of the yearly value of £6. 14s. 1d., for which he was to do divine service, and to pray for the souls of Sir Thomas and Dame Margaret Boteler, and all Christian souls, until he should be provided with a benefice of £20 a year, and he also gave him a goblet with its cover, both of which the testator had received from Lady Massie. Sir William Plumtre, who did not shrink from any duty as Sir Thomas's executor, did not hesitate, in 1526, to sue at law Sir Thomas Southworth, of Samlesbury, though a great knight and the husband of the testator's daughter Margery, in order to compel him to give up a casket of money belonging to the testator's estate, and of which he had obtained wrongful possession, and which against right and justice he would have retained but for Sir William's proceedings against him ("Duchy Calendar," p. 128).

Sir Thomas Boteler, having always loved the Austin friars at Warrington, of whose house he was the hereditary patron, did not forget them in his will, for he there desired that "ten marks should be given to the pore frerehouse of Weryngton towards the reparation and ornament of the same, after the discretion of his executors." Little did the testator foresee the ruin and desolation that would overtake the ancient house and scatter its inmates in a few short years. Loyal to his master and friend in death as he had been in life, Sir William Plumtre, when the fatal blow came, and the Austin friary had passed by sale into the hands of Sir Thomas Holcroft, the wholesale purchaser of the dissolved religious houses, unwilling to see desecrated the Jesus Chapel of the ancient priory, where prayers had been offered up for two centuries and a half, obtained at his own expense a lease of it for a term, during which it continued, after the dissolution, to be used for divine worship; and to this good purpose it continued to be applied during Sir William's life, and for five years after he had been called to his rest. In 1550 Sir John Lowe occurs, in a list of the Warrington clergy, as officiating there on the patronage, and almost certainly on the stipend, of Sir William Plumtre, which could only have been done in the Jesus Chapel. Having been the means of thus preserving the chapel through his affection for it, for its own sake and its former masters, Sir William remained to the end its friend, and in his will of 15th September, 1545, which we give in extenso, he remembers it by a legacy.

"I give [he says] to maister Boteler's chapel within the parish church of Werington vj^s viij^d and that to be disposede by the scholemaister ther and Sir Robert Hall. To Jesus church at Werington xx^s in money to be uasid by th' advice of Sir John Carlile. To Maistresse Clemence Hall the salte of silver because halfe of the stuffe that it was bought with was herres, and besides that she shall have all her owne goodes, &c., which she will take upon her concience to be herres at Hokertonne without lett or trouble. To Sir Robert Hall the bookes named Quatuor decem sermones, Ortus vocabulorum, and The Shepherdes Kalender, and the booke named Pica, and that to remain in maister Boteler's chapel at Werington. To Roger Oxell the Novum testamentum in Latin, Lilium missæ et Pupilla oculi. To my good maistress Elizabeth Bothe of Dunham iij silver spoones. To M^r Cutler Bolde a crowne or v^s. A preste to be keppe to celebrate masse for my sawlle, my father's sawlle, and my mother's sawlle, and for the souls of Sir Thomas Boteler and dame Margaret at Jesus church in Werington for iij yerres."

If Sir William Plumtre, as is probable, died at his rectory of Thornton-le-Moors, he was not unlikely buried there. He was grateful, loyal, and faithful in his office of priest and chaplain, as well as in his other offices; he descended to his grave in peace, full of years, and his memory lingered long with the worshippers in the Jesus Chapel, which he had preserved for them.

said John Hawardyn the son in respect of the lands which the said Thomas Hawardyn held in Warrington, as more fully appears by the indenture thereof made.

Ralph Holcroft, son and heir of Bartholomew Holcroft, after his father's death, paid to the aforesaid Thomas 13^s 4^d for relief of the lands in Culcheth which his father held, and died before he did his homage. Radulfus Holcroft.

Thomas Whethill of Great Sankey, died at Newcastle on Tyne after the battle between the English and the Scots at Brynestone Moor [commonly called Flodden Field] and of the wounds he received there; in which battle the king of Scotland was slain. The next heir of the said Thomas was his son Gilbert, whom the same Sir Thomas had in ward with all his lands after the death of the same Thomas Whethill's wife, who died the year after her husband. This same battle was fought on the day next after the feast of the nativity of the blessed Virgin, in the fifth year of Henry VIII., the king himself being at Coney Issac [about the siege of Terouenne]. [1513.] Whethill. The English won the victory over the Scots. Praise be to God.

Also, on the sixteenth day of March in the fifth year of Henry VIII. Thomas Rixton gentleman did homage to the aforesaid Thomas at Bewsey, before Sir Richard Bold knight, Thomas Dacre esquire, Richard Sneyd, Henry Kighley esquire, Richard Plumtre chaplain, Hamon Massye, and many others, and at the same day and time the same Thomas, rated as for a fifth part of a knight's fee, paid 20^s for the relief of his lands in Warrington, Sankey, and elsewhere before the persons aforesaid. Thomas Rixton. [1514.]

Also, Henry Sale of Bedford, who was slain in the aforesaid battle of Brynestone Moor, left a daughter named Margaret, his heir, of the age of four years or a little more, which Margaret, with her lands in Bedford, the said Sir Thomas had in ward, and he sold the wardship of the said Margaret with her marriage to John Bothe esquire and Roger for forty pounds, as more fully appears by the indenture made between the said Thomas and the said John and Roger. Henry Sale

Richard Holcroft, brother and heir of Ralph Holcroft of Hurst, on the tenth day of December in the sixth year of Henry VIII., paid 13^s 4^d for the relief of his lands in Richard Holcroft. [1514.]

Culcheth. The same Richard did homage and service at Bewsey on Saint Valentine's day in the aforesaid year of the [1515.] aforesaid king before Master Richard Delves, rector of the parish church of Warrington, Randle Brereton of Malpas, William Plumtre chaplain, and Thomas Gleg.

Also, on the Saturday next after Saint Valentine's day in the year aforesaid, Rolland Ynse did homage and service at Bewsey aforesaid for his lands in Thornton by Sefton holden of the said Thomas Butler by knight's service before the said William the chaplain, Thomas Shay bailiff of the fee, George Hughson, Ralph Taillior, and many others, and had respite for his relief to the feast of Saint John the Baptist next coming. Rolland Ynse. [Ince.] [1515.]

Be it remembered that Sir Thomas Boteler knight recovered the wardship and marriage of James Blundell, son and heir of Robert Blundell of Ince Blundell esquire, against Sir William Molyneux knight, by a writ of rape and abduction of ward, taken at the sessions holden at Lancaster, on the eve of St Bartholomew the Apostle, in the fourth year of Henry the Eighth, and judgment was given at the sessions aforesaid, by Humphrey Coningsby and William Fairfax, justices of our Lord the King, there. And in execution of the judgment aforesaid it was granted to the said Thomas to have a writ of distringas ad satisfaciendum and a capias for the king's fine, which same writs were delivered to Lawrence Starkey, undersheriff of Lancashire, as appears on roll xii of record there. And at the session there held in the fourth week in the Lent next following the said William Molyneux brought a writ of error and removed the whole proceedings to the King's Bench at Westminster before the King's Justices there, and the action was continued there until Michaelmas term in the 5th year of the same king. [1512.] [1513.]

And because the same William failed to assign error or errors, the judgment was there affirmed and a new process was granted, namely, a capias for the fine and a distringas ad satisfaciendum, which were delivered to the same undersheriff of Lancashire as appears by the record there before the said justices at Lancaster, and the same undersheriff returned non est inventus to the same writ, wherefore it was ordered that proclamation of the said William should be made from Blundell.

Afterwards, in Hilary Term, in the sixth year of the same king, the said William Molyneux appeared before the aforesaid Justices of the Bench and there became bound to pay to the said Thomas Boteler two hundred pounds unless he should deliver to him the said James Blundell before the twenty-first day of February then next coming, which bond or obligation was delivered to Sir Peter Legh, knight and priest, and the said Peter promised that the delivery of the said James should be made as above. And so on the twentieth day of February the same Peter brought the said James to Bewsey, and there, in the name and stead of the said William Molyneux, delivered him to the said Sir Thomas Boteler as his ward in the presence of Master Richard Delves rector of the parish church of Warrington, Sir Richard Bold knight, Randle Brereton esquire, James Gerrard (?) gentleman, and many others according to the form and order aforesaid, taken before the Justices of the Bench in Hilary Term in the sixth year of the aforesaid king Henry VIII. And, further, the said William paid 23^s 4^d before the aforesaid Justices of the Bench to the attorney of the aforesaid Thomas Boteler, namely, to John Lucas for his costs and charges and his costs of increase as adjudged by the Court at Lancaster.

Rector of Wigan.

PRINTED FOR

THE RECORD SOCIETY.

1885.

INTRODUCTION.

THE MS. Ledger, from which the following lists of contributions from the Clergy of the Diocese of Chester are taken, was found by the Editor, some years ago, in an old chest in the Earl of Bradford's Muniment Room, where it had probably been lying undisturbed for a century and more. It is in a good state of preservation, on the whole, though a few of the early pages have been damaged and partially corroded by the ink. It is a private Ledger of John Bridgeman, D.D., Bishop of Chester, 1619 to 1652, and contains more than 500 folio pages of closely-written matter in the minute and careful handwriting of the Bishop himself. There is a MS. volume preserved in the Diocesan Registry at Chester, containing many particulars relating to the Diocese of Chester, which is known as "Bishop Bridgeman's Ledger," and is frequently quoted under that title by the learned Bishop Gastrell and others. Whilst this latter volume is full of interesting statistics connected with Diocesan affairs, the present volume is chiefly occupied with private memoranda, referring to the Bishop's own landed estates, and particulars of the revenues he derived from his Episcopal See and other ecclesiastical benefices which he was allowed to hold in commendam with it. Among these, however, many entries occur, which are of more general interest, and especially to those who are concerned with the antiquities of the Diocese of Chester. The lists of the clergy herein transcribed are the more valuable, for that it is believed there are no similar lists known to be extant for any other Diocese ; and, although the return of the clerical subsidies will doubtless be found preserved in the Public Record Office, the amounts collected as loans and subsidies were probably paid into the Exchequer in one gross sum, without specifying the parishes or individuals from whom they were gathered. Moreover, of many of the minor clergy,—unbeneficed curates and licensed schoolmasters,—whose names are here given, there is no other record known to exist. The money thus collected from the clergy, during the twenty years from 1620 to 1639 inclusive, amounts in the aggregate to a large sum, and it is obvious that this kind of taxation must have pressed very heavily upon them, and more especially upon the poorer members of that body. The neat and careful way in which these subsidies have been entered in the Ledger, and the strict account given of all the money which passed through the Bishop's hands, betoken those methodical and business-like habits for which he was so remarkable.

In preparing these lists for the printer the proofs have been carefully compared with the original MS., which is in many places written in such diminutive characters as to be almost illegible without the use of a magnifying-glass.

In the absence of any list of the Lancashire clergy who contributed to the Ship-money in 1635, some interesting letters from Humphrey Chetham's MSS. have been printed on pp. 106-114.

DR. JOHN BRIDGEMAN, Lord Bishop of Chester from 1619 to 1652, was a native of Exeter, where he was born on November 2, 1577. He was the eldest son of Thomas Bridgeman, of Greenway, or Spyre Park, near Exeter, and grandson of Edward Bridgeman, Sheriff of that city in 1562-3. The Spyre Park property, which had been held by his ancestors under the Abbots of Tavistock, was afterwards sold by the Bishop to defray the purchase of larger estates in Lancashire and Cheshire. As Prince, in his "Worthies of Devon," tells us that being "well disposed to books and learning he was carefully kept at school till he was thought fit to be transplanted to the University," it is probable that he received his early education in his native town, where, Isacke tells us, there was an ancient "High-School for the better education of youth in good literature," which had been founded in the year 1445, and rebuilt in 1561, not many years before the birth of the future Bishop. Being in due time transplanted to the University, he was elected fellow

Magdalen College, Cambridge, in 1599; and on April 29, 1601, he was ordained Deacon and Priest by Thomas Dove, Lord Bishop of Peterborough. His first preferment (with the exception of the small prebend of Carswell attached to St Mary's Chapel in the Castle of Exeter) was to the Rectory of North Tawton, in Devonshire, to which he was instituted October 4, 1604. About this time he seems to have come under the favourable notice of King James I., who presented him to the Vicarage of Alvington in the same year, and afterwards to the Rectory of Lezant in the county of Cornwall. In the following year he was collated to a Prebendal Stall at Peterborough by his friend Bishop Dove, with whom he resided when staying at Peterborough, and in 1606 he became chaplain in ordinary to the King. After this his preferment was rapid; and, after being made a Canon residentiary of Exeter in 1615, the King presented him in the January of the following year to the Rectory of Wigan, in Lancashire, which had lapsed to the Crown for that turn by reason of the minority of the Lord of Newton in Makerfield. He was consecrated Bishop of Chester, at Lambeth, on Sunday, May 9, 1619; and, as the See of Chester was then but poorly endowed, he was allowed to retain the Rectory of Wigan in commendam with it. The Episcopal Palace at Chester, which was adjacent to the Cathedral, being rendered unhealthy by the bad use to which it was then turned by the Dean and Chapter, the Bishop had a special licence to reside partly in Lancashire, provided that he kept house and entertainment at Chester during the Christmas season. When in Lancashire he divided his residence between Wigan (where he rebuilt the chancel of the parish church in 1622) and Lever Hall, which he had purchased from Sir Ralph Ashton in 1629. He is said by Mr. Mortimer, in his "History of Wirral," to have also lived at Bromboro' Hall, in Cheshire, another of his purchases. It is quite possible that he may have resided there occasionally, but I have met with nothing in his Diary to prove that he did so. Bromboro' was sold by his son, Sir Orlando Bridgeman, and soon afterwards passed to the Mainwaring family. For a fuller account of Bishop Bridgeman I beg to refer the reader to an article contributed by myself to the "Palatine

Note Book for Lancashire and Cheshire" (vol. iii. p. 1). I will merely state here that he seems to have been a man of indefatigable energy and perseverance. He did much to restore the churches in his Diocese, and raise them from the decay and slovenly condition into which they had been allowed to fall ; while the clergy were at the same time urged by him to a higher life and stricter uniformity of ritual. He is said, however, to have effected these changes with such courtesy and moderation as made him respected by his clergy ; and in the work of restoration he was greatly assisted by the laity, who, in many instances, expended large sums upon the restoration of their churches. Bishop Bridgeman was a staunch supporter of the King's authority, and, like most of his episcopal brethren, he suffered much vexation and pecuniary loss during the time of the Great Rebellion. He was fined £3,000 by the Parliament and driven from his Palace ; the inmates of which, about forty in number, were reduced to great extremities during the siege of Chester in 1645, so that for some days before the surrender of the city they were entirely without either flour or corn. In 1650 the Palace was seized, and sold with all its furniture for £1,059. In the meantime the aged Bishop had taken refuge at Morton Hall, in Shropshire, the seat of his eldest son Orlando, where he died, at a good old age, in November, 1652. There are several original pictures of him extant, of which more than one are in the possession of his descendant and representative, the Earl of Bradford, at Weston Hall, in Staffordshire. One, taken in his episcopal robes, is preserved in the Bishop's Palace, Chester ; and another, painted in 1616, in the fortieth year of his age, is in my possession at Wigan Hall. This picture has a shield of arms in one corner, with the arms of Bridgeman, sable, ten plates four, three, two and one, on a chief, argent, a lion passant, ermines (or sable) ; impaling, azure (or vert) a cross patonce, argent, between four mullets pierced, or, for Helyar, his wife Elizabeth being the daughter of William Helyar, Canon of Exeter and Archdeacon of Barnstaple. In the other corner is a quaint device, representing the world below and the sky above, with a reference to Luc 16, 26 ("Between us and you there is a great gulf fixed," &c.), and the following legend "Gratia dei Pons homini," which is capable of a double rendering, the least obvious of which is, "By the grace of God (I am what I am) Bridge-man." The Bishop's eldest surviving son, Sir Orlando Bridgeman, Knight and Bart., became successively Lord Chief Baron of the Exchequer, Chief Justice of the Common Pleas, and Lord Keeper of the Great Seal.

second 1631.

The second for the palatinate was a^o 1632 (sic) : gatherd by M^r Edward Morgill, who accounts for 52^{li} 10^s 9^d as appear by his acquitance signed by Ambrosius Regemorterus (minister of the Dutch Church in londō : & Abraham Berey (John Lamott & David homier elders, witnesses Theodhaak : laur: Booth : & Tho: Darcy. The note of w^{ch} particulars Edw. Morgill sent to me in parliam^t Januar 1640 : & idd the same to Mr. Lamott.

first collectiō
a^o 1627.

The first collectiō for the ministers of the palatinate came to 144^{li} : 13 : 4 & was paid in by M^r William Morgell son to my register M^r John Morgell to John Mabill servant to M^r [Blank in original] Hunt Register to the L: B^p of London the generall Receiver of that collectiō whervpon M^r Isack haughton agent for the palatinate wrote a tre of thanks to me at chester for 100^{li} w^{ch} he acknowledged he had received from M^r Hunt Register of Londō for my dioces but when I considered that he mentioned only a Just sum of 100^{li} neither more nor lesse I thought wth my self that certainly there was some od pounds, shillings or pence not paid & thervpon I sent to the office at chester & examined my officers & found that they had re^cd above one hundred & forty pounds; & Mr W^m Morgill proved by virtue of one of my Lord vicount savage gent then present who saw above forty four pounds more p^d by him to Mr hunt. And when I came to parliament next week to London, I sent for Mr Isack Haak & told him of it & though hunt denyed it at first, yet (when he threatned to complayne of him for this cosinage) he afterwards p^d all to Mr. Haak: And then I advised Haak to write like letters of thanks to all the severall B^{ps} of the Land, expressing the sums sent vp for their diocesses & desiring them by my example to examine their officers: w^{ch} they did & therupon was discovered a great deal of knavery. In so much as Mr Haak afterwards told me that they had gayned by this meanes above sixe hundred pounds, wherof els they poor ministers of the palatinate had otherwise been deceived by the Receivers, / w^{ch} hath caused me since then to look more narrowly to my officers, for afor then, I left all such Briefs & Collections to the office & medled not therin myself.

But Mabill & hunt herevpon p^d Mr haake 44^{li}: 13^s: 4^d being the overplus above the s^d 100^{li} vide his acquittance wth Mr Morgell.

The 3^d & last collection for the exiled ministers of the palatinate made through the dioces of Chester, 1636 (sic), came to 6^{li}: 13: 9 w^{ch} (when I heard was so small) I charged the Dean of Manchester Mr Woolmer who had yet gathered nothing, That he should sp: to the severall ministers to vrge pressingly vpon their people, who did it so effectually, as in his deanary of Manchester alone, he received for his 3^d collection more, 125^{li}: 18: 9 w^{ch} was p^d to Mr. Edward Lively secretary to Archb^p of york Dr Neal, & p^d him by Mr Edmund Manwering my Chauncelor who hath the Archb^p acquittance for the s^d 125^{li}: 18: 9: subscribed also by Edw: Lively.

Also he hath the like acq: frō them for 6^{li}: 1^s: 2^d more w^{ch} Mr Raph Stirrop parson of Asheton mersy brought to me & I p^d Dr Manwering for his parish ther so in all Dr Manwering p^d Archb^p Neal's secretary 132^{li}: 0^s: 3 ob w^{ch} Mr Edw: Lively accounted for to Mr Lamott, Marchant in Londō & Mr Isack haak Agent for the palatinate; but he expressed not that it came frō the dioces of Chester, but as if it had been collected in York Dioces, whervpon M^r Lamot & M^r haak came to me at the parliam^t in Apr: 1640 to know whether all my dioces had contributed only the said 36 : 13 : 9 for this 3^d. Collection : w^{ch} was p^d also to the s^d M^r Lively 13 May : 1636 by M^r Edmund Tock of London cheesmonger (as apeares by his acquittance frō M^r Lively) but when they vnderstood that I had p^d more 132^{li} : to the Archb^p of yorks secretary M^r Lively they thanked me for the whole 168^{li} : 13 : 9 for this 3^d Collectiō for the s^d palatine ministers & blamed the Archb^{ps} secretary for concealing the bounty of Chester dioces & setting it vnder the name of York dioces,/ so it was p^d thus ¹ The first only of the four subsidies is here fully transcribed, as the names of the clergy are not repeated. The first subsidy was collected in 1624; the 2nd in 1624-5; the 3rd in 1625-6; and the 4th in 1626-7. The amounts collected are given in parallel columns, and the names of the clergy are written on the margin opposite the first column. Where the name has been erased and another substituted, the former will doubtless have been the incumbent in 1624.

3^d Collectioⁿ

Total onus of one entyre subsidy of 4^s the pound (if all be p^d) for B^p Dean &
Chapter, & for all the Clergy is 729^{li} : 16^s : 0 as apeares by this book.

But wheras in the former parliam^t, the Auditor charged the collector wth 734^{li} for an entire subsidye, it was an error for he charged mottram vicaridge wth 48^{li} : w^{ch} ought to pay nothing because the parson payes it : and likewise he ther charged Grismere at 5^{li} w^{ch} is chargeable by order of ex

Of the first entyre subsidy due j :

Junij 1624 : I returned vp by M^r ffog 406^{li} : 10^s : 8^d and comissary Manwering sent vp to Walter Retorick for his first receipts in his 3 deanaryes: 65^{li} : 2^s : 8^d : both w^{ch} sums were paid by M^r ffog & M^r Retorick together into thexchequer 2^o Sept: 1624. who strook Tally for the same being in all 471^{li} : 13^s : 4^d. Also M^r Manwering received afterwards for Melsomby, Bedall, Wath & Burneston, Goldsburgh, Riply, Aldburgh, Stavely, & Knarsburgh 36^{li} : 10^s : 8^d. w^{ch} (when I was at york) he p^mised me to send vp to Walter Retorick, w^{ch} being p^d into thexchequer makes vp 508^{li} : 3^s : 10^d for w^{ch} the Auditor must allow me portage at 6^d the pound & it comes to 13^{li} : 16^s : 0^d (with 22^s for Auditors fee). And I have certefyed vp Non-solvent of this first subsidy—209^{li}. Totall—730^{li} : 19^s : 10^d w^{ch} is 23^s : 10^d more then I am chargeable wth all for this first subsidye.

M^d for this first whole subsidy due 1 Junii 1624 Edward lloyd past my account, & gott my quietus est 19^o Novemb: 1624 : wherby it apeares, that (besides the fors^d 471^{li} : 13^s : 4^d, w^{ch} M^r fog p^d vt supra 31^o Aug: 1624 et 2^o Sept.) received some pt herof, I accounted to the s^d R: ffog & W Cook 17^o ffebr: 1624, & p^d them 158^{li} : 1^s : 4^d for the first p^t of this 2^d subsidy & 220^{li} : 8^s : 1^d for the Tenths due the last Christmas 1624 : w^{ch} is all that I have rec^d or any for me for the s^d Tenth or subsidye : And I gave Richard ffog acquittances vnder my hand for all those who have not p^d their Tenths or the s^d subsidye. So as now I have n^o more to doe wth the s^d Tenth or subsidye, but M^r ffog & M^r Cook hath them and must account entyrelly for them.

M^d M^r Edmund Manwering p^d Rich: ffogs factor Ralph ffog, in London, 5 : Apr: 1625 : for the first p^t of 2^d subsidy of Catherick, Richmond & Burrowbrig Deanaryes—52^{li} : 0^s : 8^d. And for the arrerage of the first entyre subsidy of Kirby wisk due 1^o Junii last but not p^d till now : 5^{li}. In all M^r Manwering p^d Ralph ffog for subsidy this 5 of Apr 1625—57^{li} : 0^s : 8^d. Also he then p^d Ralph ffog ffor the last Christmas Tenths of those 3 deanaryes : 79^{li} : 6^s : 9^d. M^d that 2^o Maij (wheras I had formerly lent M^r Rich: ffog 50^{li} of my own mony to be rep^d me on sight in Londō) I now re delivered vp his bill for the s^d 50^{li} : and I also p^d him in mony now 6^s w^{ch} is in discharge of the first pt of the 2^d subsidy w^{ch} I am to pay for my B^{prick} & comendā due to the king : 1^o : dec: 1624, viz: for the first pt of the 2^d subsidy for the Bishopricke 37^{li} : 16^s : 0^d & for the like for Bangor 4^{li} : 6^s : 0^d, and for the like for Wigan 7^{li} : 4^s : 0^d (but for the Impropriations of mottrā, Ribchester, Chippin, Brompton, & Ravensworth I paid him nothing but certefyed them). M^d the same day I p^d him also for the collections for argiers captives—36^{li} : 17^s : 9^d ob q^r, ffor this first pt of the 2^d subsidy W^m Cook & Rich: ffog brought me my Quietus est July 17th 1625. And then I rec^d of them for portage therof 7^{li} : 1^s : 4^d : and p^d them at that tyme—121^{li} : 18^s : 5^d for all my Tenths of B^{prick}, Comendams, & five Impropriations due last Christmas 1624, 71^{li} : 12^s : 5^d. & for 2^d pt of 2^d subsidy due 1^o Junij 1625 : 50^{li} : 6^s : 0^d.

1 Junij 1627.

The first p^t of the fourth subsidy granted to King James I myself collected by my servants due 1^o Decemb: 1626, & p^d it into thexchequ^r May : 1627 : and have my Quietus est : herein I think I p^d 48^s : 8^d more then is due : for a whole half subsidyes onus is but—365 : 16 : 0—now I certified nō solvents : 89^{li} : 11 : 4, and Edw: lloyd p^d into thexchequer : 270^{li} : 15^s : 10^d & allowing for portage 6 : 15 : 6, and Auditors fee 22^s. Totall p^d & allowed come to : 378 : 4 : 8 w^{ch} is 48^s : 8^d more then I ought to pay.

The 2^d p^t of the fourth & last subsidy w^{ch} was grante to King James, I mys: also Collected by my men in Junij 1627, & p^d it into thexcheq^r p Edw: lloyd & Walter Retoric & I have my quietus est for it : et all is æque.

Here follow the 3 subsidies granted to K: Charles where the first pt of the first subsidy began 1 Decemb: 1627, Graunted in parliam^t 1 Caroli : 1625.

The first pt of first subsidy graunted to King Charles a Oxford was payable 1 : Decemb: 1627 : w^{ch} I mys: collected p servos & paid it into thexcheq^r : 21 May : 1628 p Walte Retorick collector & Edward lloyd, who p^d in mony 245^{li} : 0 : 6 & was allowed for portage 6^{li} : 5 : 6, & ffo Auditors ffee 22^s. In all my Quietus est is for 252^{li} : 8 : 0 & I certefyed nō solvents—89^{li} : 2^s : 0, so sum Totall payd allowed : & certified is—341 : 10 : 0. But the whole hal subsidy sho: be—352^{li} (besides impropriations of the B^{pri} w^{ch} are now abated & not charged by the Auditor) : so b this account ther is payd lesse then is due for this hal subsidy—10 : 10 : 0—quære how this comes to pass vnles it b in requitall or repaym^t of my surcharges or overplus w^{ch} paid into exchequer diverse former subsidyes more then I owed : for I p^d 19^{li} : 3^s : 8^d more then was due for the first entyre subsidye graunted 21 Jacobi & due 1^o Junij 1624 vt constat supra. Itm I p^d 2 : 5 : 4 more then was due for first p^t of 3^d subsidy due 1 Decemb: 1625. Also I p^d 2 : 8 : 0 too much for the first pt of the fourth subsidye due 1 Decemb: 1626. In all I have p^d more then I ought for thos subsidyes graunted to King James—23^{li} : 17 : 8. but contrariwise I payd less then I should (as it seems) for the 2^d p^t of the 3^d subsidy by 3^{li} : 14 : 0, as also for this first p^t of this first subsidy graunted to King Charles 10 : 10 : 0, w^{ch} being allowed, yet I have p^d into thexcheq^r more then I should for those 4 subsidyes of King James—9^{li} : 13 : 8. Besides I p^d for the first three subsidyes (graunted when I first was made B^p) for the Impropriations of my B^{pri} 13^{li} : 16 : 0 for ecl subsidy : w^{ch} sho: not be p^d.

2^d pt Junij

The 2^d p^t of first subsidy collected by Orlando : to whom

I p^d 50^{li} : 6^s for my subsidy of B^{prick} & comendã all the rest of this 2^d p^t of first subsidy Orlando accounts for : it being the first that ever he collected for the King, hereof he received in mony of the clergy (reckoning in my 50^{li} : 6 : 0) in all—204 : 19 : 4—& M^r Manwering sent vp to Walter Retorick for his receipts in Richmond, Catherick, & Burrowbrig—47^{li} : 6 : 0, & he certefyed 99 : 14 : 8. In all—352^{li} w^{ch} (deducting my 5 Impropriations) is all the half subsidy. M^d of the 99^{li} : 14 : 8 w^{ch} I certified for non solvents quære Edw: lloyd for Trinity, Hawarden, Bebington, Bartomly, w^{ch} if he have received he must pay for I & Orlando have not received them, amounting to 11^{li} : 10 : 0.

Some arrerages of this subsidy were p^d the yere following to Laur: booth & by him into thexchequer for 1 p^t of 3^d subsidy, vide post in fine hujus folij.

THE FIRST SHIP-MONEY OF THE CLERGY OF THE COUNTY OF CHESTER, 1635.

The first Ship-monye of Clergy of Cheshire, 200^{li} 28^o Oct: 1635 : at Lever.

The Sum for a ship for the defence of the Kingdom imposed on Cheshire was—3500^{li} whereof the City of Chester was charged wth 300^{li}. The Clergy of the city & county wth 200^{li} & the Layty of Cheshire wth 3000^{li}.

Sheriffe S^r
Tho: Aston.

This 200^{li} on the clergy was imposed or taxed by S^r Tho: Aston high sheriffe & the gentry of that county ; who by lres desired the Lo: B^p of Chester to apportion the ministers what ech sho: pay towards it : whereupon the Lo: B^p caused all the clergy in ech deanary in Cheshire to meet in their severall Deanaryes, & there to choose 2 ministers in ech deanary to be wth the L: B^p at his house at Lever, authorized by them to apportion the summ w^{ch} ech minister sho: pay, w^{ch} they did & accordingly sent for chester deanary D^r Snel & D^r Byrom : for ffordsham M^r Osely & M^r Burrowes : for woral, M^r Edwards & M^r Glover : for nantwich M^r ffowler & M^r Saring : for midlewich M^r. Halleley & [Blank in original] : for malpas M^r Tho: Bridge & M^r Essex Clark : & for Maxfield M^r Shipton & M^r Joynson, all w^{ch} appeared at Lever & aggreed vpon the paym^t of an entyre subsidy for the clergy of that shire : but because That sum fell short of 200^{li} they assessed some Lecturers & Curats & because diverse clergymen were highly rated in the Kings books & others very Litle & had p^d no subsidie befor as great Budworth &c. therfor they to ease some, enhansed others in a few pticulers as followeth.

Imprimis The B^p having 122^{li} : 10^s : 8^d rents in Cheshire & Chester, was sett at 3^{li} (but he dđ then to D^r Byrom in their presence 6^{li} & made it vp 10^{li} w^{ch} { But this was p^d in was p^d to Alderman Edwards) : besides the city & not other 10^{li} for his comendam reckoned emong

 Item the Dean & Chapter p^d likewise Cheshire clergy.
 to the city—10^{li}.

THE ASSESSMENT OF THE CLERGY OF LANCASHIRE FOR THE SHIP-MONEY, 1635.

Unfortunately, no list of the Lancashire Clergy who contributed towards the Ship-money in 1635 occurs in Bishop Bridgeman's private Ledger; but as Humphrey Chetham happened to be the High Sheriff of Lancashire in that year, some particulars relating to this subject are here given, taken from the MS. collections relating to him, now preserved in the Chetham Library, Manchester. The letters show how the assessment was ordered and how it was made throughout the county. The three letters here printed will be found in Hibbert Ware's "Foundations of Manchester," vol. iij. pp. 270-272.

A LETTER FROM THE LORDS OF THE COUNCIL
ENQUIRING HOW HUMPHREY CHETHAM, THE
HIGH SHERIFF OF LANCASHIRE, HAD TAXED
THE CLERGY FOR THE SHIP-MONEY, DATED 25TH JAN. 1635-[6].

After or hearty comendacons whereas this Board when the Writts concerning Shipping first went out (and since as occasion was offered) was very carefull to recomend (so farre as y^e present necessity of y^e service would pmitt) that the Cleargie in their Taxacions & Assessments for Shipping, might receive all due respect both to their psons & calling. Now to the end this Board may be sattisfied how these direcions have been observed since, wee have thought good hereby to pray & require you to examine & make certificate unto us with convenient expedicion, what y^e Cleargie hath been assessed at within your County, for y^e Shipping money charged this last yeare. And so wee bid you heartily farewell, from Whitehall y^e 25th of January 1635-[6].

LETTER FROM M^r CHETHAM IN REPLY.

Right Hon^{ble}.

Your Lordshipps letter from Whitehall, bearing date the 25th of January I received the 13th of februarie, requiring mee to examine & make certificate how those directions which were given in charge by your Lordshipps letter, concerninge the taxinge & assessinge of the Clergie within the Countie of Lancaster have been observed; Upon receipt of which letter and by virtue thereof, I forthwith by speciall messengers directed & dispersed severall letters to all the Maiors & Magistrates of the Corporate & Burrow Townes, & likewyse to all the high Constables of the severall hundreds of the Countie, requiring an account of the premises, but as yet (if it maie please your good Lordships) no answere of my letters are retorned, nor can the[y] bee expected yet this 10 daies, by reason that I dwell 60 or 70 myles from some parts of the Countie. The high constables likewyse would require some competent tyme after the receipt of my letters, to send forth their precepts unto all the Subconstables within their severall divisions, & other assistants in the Assessment, the better to inable them to make their Certificate unto me, which when the[y] come, I shall expedite to your Lordships as speedily as is possible, in the meantime, lest your Lordships should thinke mee negligent or remisse in the Service, I thought it my dutie to certifie of my proceedings therein, humbly craving your Lordships favor & patience untill I can by my best endeavors accomplish the Same.

Your Lordships in all dutie & Service to bee comanded

Clayton this 8th march 1635-[6].

In reply to Humphrey Chetham's letter, the following replies and returns were made to him, and occur in his MS. collections, vol. iii., in the Chetham Library. The abstracts are those made by the late Canon Raines.

The Mayor and Bailiffs of Lancaster with 4 parishioners stated that their Vicar paid 40s., and "that there were no other Clergy" "who had Church Livings within their Corporation." 23 Feb. 1635-[6].

James Starkie Vicar of Preston assessed & paid 8^s.

Liverpool says "the Mayor who assessed last year is dead but the truth is wee haue noe Cleargie man wthin the sayd Towne who is at all Beneficed but one who is o^r Stipendiary Minister whom the Towne maynteynes uppon theire owne Charge The Tythes and other Church Dues of value goeing to the Parson of Walton from y^e Towne soe y^t o^r Preacher wth us was not assessed at all but y^e towne underwent the Burthen them selves."

A LETTER FROM HUMPHREY CHETHAM THE
HIGH SHERIFF RESPECTING THE PROPORTION OF TAXATION IMPOSED ON THE HUNDREDS AND TOWNS, AND ALSO ON THE CLERGY.

Right Hon^{ble}.

Whereas I received your Lordships letter, requiring a certificate or Accompt how the Clergie hath beene assessed or taxed throughout the Countie of Lancaster, for & towards the Ship money, viz. 3500^{li}, imposed the last yeare on the whole Countie, with the corporate & burrough townes thereof; And whereas Since the receipt of the said letter, I likewise receaved another letter from one M^r Nicholas directed unto mee, (I doubt not) by your Lordships order & appointment, requiring to be informed how the Said Summe of 3500^{li} was divided & charged upon the Severall hundreds and the Corporate & burrough Townes of the said Countie;

In answeare whereunto,

Maie it please your good Lordshipps, that I made the taxacion according to an auncient Rule whereby all Leyes & Taxes have beene hearetofore assessed & gathered, approved on under the hands of the Leiftenants, Justices, & other head officers within this Countie, & since observed by them upon all occasions of the like nature within the said countie, and with the Cuntree likewise, in respect of the hundreds being familiarly acquainted with, do thinke most equall for anie thing I can discover. And as concerninge the Corporate & Burrough Townes, they at our first convention of all the Maiors Magistrates & head officers of the Same, were assessed by a mutuall consent & agreement, such as was then thought most equall & indifferent. The Clergie likewise, as I gave speciall charge in all my precepts to the high Constables & other officers, that in there assessments they should have all due respect to their persons & callings, so I do believe they have verie frendly & favorably delt with them. All which Taxation of the Clergie, so soon as I could receive information thereof from the remote parts of the Countie, I have hereunder reduced into a forme, with the Assessment of the Hundreds, the Corporate & the burrough Townes, which I humbly present to your Lordships as a conclusion of the Service.

Three
Lancashire Subsidy Rolls, VIZ., FOR THE
HUNDRED OF SALFORD, 1541,
THE HUNDRED OF SALFORD, 1622,
AND THE
HUNDRED OF LEYLAND, 1628,
TOGETHER WITH A
Recusant Roll for the Hundred of Leyland,
IN 1628.

EDITED BY
J. P. EARWAKER, M.A. F.S.A.

PRINTED FOR THE RECORD SOCIETY.
1885.

INTRODUCTION.

SUBSIDY ROLLS are a class of documents which have been much neglected by the antiquary and the local historian, although they are of much importance. It was by means of "subsidies," granted by Acts of Parliament, from time to time, and levied upon the whole of the kingdom, that the Kings of England, from the thirteenth to the eighteenth century, were enabled to carry on the affairs of the nation, to wage war and to provide money for their private expenditure. A certain sum having been granted by Parliament, it was divided pro rata amongst all the counties, in proportion to their size and relative wealth, and certain Commissioners were nominated in each county to collect the amount levied on that county. These Commissioners again subdivided themselves into smaller bodies of Commissioners for each of the Hundreds in that county, who assessed those of the inhabitants, liable to contribute, according to the rate-books then in force, and placed the collecting of the money to be raised from each Hundred in the hands of one or more persons of position as "Collectors." Lists of all those who had to contribute to each subsidy were made out, arranged in Hundreds and parishes, and opposite to each name was placed the amount at which he was assessed, either in lands or goods, and the amount at so much in the pound which he was called upon to pay. These long lists of names written out on narrow pieces of parchment, sewn together so as to form a long roll, were sent up to the Exchequer, and are now preserved in the Record Office. Duplicates of these lists were retained either by the Commissioners or the Collectors for each Hundred, and thus it frequently happens that amongst the muniments of any old county family, members of which took an active part in county management in days gone by, that these duplicate Subsidy Rolls are found. In some cases, too, these duplicates are now the only records of the Subsidies to be found, those which were sent to the Exchequer having been accidentally destroyed or lost. A complete list of all the Lancashire Subsidy Rolls now preserved in the Record Office has been made for this Society by Mr. J. A. C. VINCENT, and that gentleman is now engaged in seeing it through the press.¹

In the following pages three Lancashire Subsidy Rolls will be found, two for the Hundred of Salford, one taken in 1541 and the other in 1622, and one for that of Leyland taken in 1628, which will show the value and local importance which such documents possess. As far as I can learn, these are the first Lancashire Subsidy Rolls which have appeared in full in print, although some recent writers on local history have quoted others, relating to the particular district in which they were interested, in the pages of their histories. In the first of these, that for 1541, the rate was for lands a shilling in the pound, and for goods sixpence. Thus Sir Alexander Radcliffe of Ordsall, knt., was assessed at £100 in lands on which he had to pay £5, whereas Edward Mosley, the father of Sir Nicholas Mosley, knt., who was assessed at £40 in goods, paid £1. In that for 1622 the rate was four shillings in the pound for lands, and two shillings and eightpence in the pound for goods. Thus Sir John Radcliffe of Ordsall, knt., assessed at £20 in lands, paid £4, whilst Francis Mosley of Manchester for £4 in goods paid 10s. 8d. In that for 1628 the rates are not ascertainable, a lump sum being charged to each person.

The Subsidy Roll for Salford Hundred has been taken from the copy made by the late Canon Raines in vol. xxii of his MSS. now in the Chetham Library, Manchester, from the original found by him among some family deeds. The other two were found by the late Sir Oswald Mosley, Bart., among his muniments, and were by him generously presented to the Chetham Library, where they are now carefully preserved.

¹ For a short description of these Rolls see Mr. Selby's "Lancashire and Cheshire Records," vol. i. pp. 187-8 (Record Society's Publications, vol. vii.).

Attached to the Subsidy Roll for Leyland Hundred in 1628 is a long narrow "Recusant Roll," or list of all the Recusants in that Hundred in that year. These Recusant Rolls, which, as Mr. SELBY well observes in his notice of them ("Lancashire and Cheshire Records," vol. i. pp. 188, &c.), are comparatively unknown, or at least rarely consulted, contain inter alia the fines levied on those persons above the age of sixteen who did not attend "some Church, Chappell or usuall Place of Common Prayer," or did not receive the Sacrament there. As shown by the heading attached to this Roll (see p. 173), it contains the names of "the popish Recusants" convicted, of the age of seventeen years or upwards, and all non-communicants of the age of twenty-one years or upwards, within the Hundred of Leyland, who were liable to pay 8d. per poll, but it will be noticed that in no case is a less sum than 16d. charged upon each person. It is possible, however, that this represents two assessments levied at the same time. This is the first Lancashire Recusant Roll which has been printed in full, and the long list of Roman Catholics, both men and women, in this important Hundred of Lancashire in 1628 cannot but be of much value to all interested in Lancashire genealogy and history.

CORRIGENDA.

SUBSIDY ROLL, SALFORD HUNDRED, 1541.

As this volume was passing through the press the original roll, from which Canon Raines made his transcript, has been lent me. A careful comparison of this roll with the printed copy necessitates the following corrections, some of which are of importance.

J. P. E.

- p. 137, line 12 from bottom, for sayd read head.
- p. 138, line 12, for xx^{li} read xl^{li}, and for x^s read xx^s.
- „ line 19, for Manchester read Manchester.
- „ line 23, for xxxiii^{li} read xxiii^{li}.
- p. 139, line 18, for Rauffe Enyan read Rauffe Kenyan.
- p. 140, lines 2 and 3, for Nycolasse read Nycolasson.
- „ line 6, for Houghton read Haulghton.
- „ line 18, for Margaret read Margery.
- „ line 4 from bottom, for Grover read Gronde.
- „ last line, for Seddon read Ceddon [Seddon].
- p. 142, line 3, for xx^{li} read xxj^{li}, and for x^s read x^s vj^d.
- „ line 9, for ffaniett read ffancett.
- „ after line 9 insert the following:—
John Crompton of Bryghtmede for xx^{li} in goods x^s.
- „ line 10, for Norreys read Morreys.
- p. 143, line 4 from bottom, for Lumaly read Lumalx [Lomax].
- p. 144, line 5, for Otho read Otes.
- „ line 15, for Vynall read Vgnall.
- „ line 16, for xx^{li} read xxj^{li}, and for x^s read x^s vj^d.
- „ line 21, for Lumaley read Lumalx [Lomax].
- „ line 4 from bottom, for bocke read Cocke.
- p. 145, line 10 from bottom, for Greves read Greyve.
- p. 146, line 1, for Robart read Roger.
- „ line 10, for Jordan Howarth read Rondull Howorthe.
- „ line 11, for Oliver read Ellys.
- „ line 12, for Stott read Butterworth.¹
- „ line 17, add the words “of Bynnes” after Brerely.
- „ line 20, for Gartsyde read Robert Chadwycke of Warmehole.
- „ line 21, for James Gartsyde read James Buckley.
- „ last line, for Quetelawe read qvetance [quittance].

OBLIGATORY KNIGHTHOOD

Temp. CHARLES I.

L I S T S

OF THE

Esquires and Gentlemen

IN

Cheshire and Lancashire,

WHO REFUSED THE ORDER OF KNIGHTHOOD AT THE CORONATION OF CHARLES I.

Drawn up in the years 1631 and 1632.

THE RECORD SOCIETY.

INTRODUCTION.

BY a statute, the date of which is now believed to be the 6th Edward I. [1278], called Statutum de Militibus, all persons possessing at that time an income of £20 per annum, were considered worthy of Knighthood, and in the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries, every one who held a Knight's fee of land, and was of age, was liable to be summoned to accept the order of Knighthood or else pay a fine to the King. In the fifteenth century, in the reign of Henry VI., the annual income of those considered worthy of Knighthood was raised to £40. On important occasions, such as Coronations, Royal Marriages, &c., it became customary for proclamation to be made that all those persons, who were of age and who held one or more Knight's fees should take up their Knighthood, or in default of so doing should pay a fine. In process of time the holders of lands, otherwise than by Knight's fees, were included, so long as they had the requisite annual income.

No very early instances of this obligatory Knighthood as far as Cheshire and Lancashire are concerned are known, but the following will show the procedure in the early part of the sixteenth century, 1528 :¹

pr. me THOM. HOBBYS

An Acquittance for Knighthood of the Bath 1528.

The list of those persons from various parts of England who compounded for their Knighthood 1 & 2 Mary [1553-4] is given in the Herald and Genealogist, vol. v. p. 18, and other lists "of those who have not compounded for their fines for Knighthood," temp. Edward VI. and Elizabeth, occur in the State Papers.

The fullest accounts of obligatory Knighthood are to be found in a paper entitled "An Inquiry in the History of Feudal and Obligatory Knighthood in England; by F. M. Nichols, M.A. F.S.A., Barrister at Law," communicated to the Society of Antiquaries and printed in the Archæologia, vol. 39, 1863, and in the Introduction to "Obligatory Knighthood, temp. Charles I., with the names of those Staffordshire gentlemen who compounded with the Commissioners for not taking upon themselves the order of Knighthood at the Coronation of that King," by H. S. Grazebrook, Esq.; printed by the William Salt Archæological Society, "Historical Collection for Staffordshire," vol. ii., to the latter of which I must express my indebtedness.

As far as is now known there is no trace of any obligatory Knighthood being made use of by James I., who, however, was so lavish in his creation of Knights that the subject became a public scandal and gave rise to many jokes at their expense. At the Coronation of Charles I., the old custom was revived in a very vigorous manner, evidently with a view of raising as much money by fines, &c., as possible. This being the case, various conjectures have been made as to whether all those who were cited to appear could have been Knighted if they had desired that honour. As, however, the fees for Knighthood were so very much larger than the fines imposed on defaulters (the former being from £60 to £70 and the latter £10 to £25), and at the same time there was the expense of a long journey to London, and the certainty of much delay there, together with a strong probability of refusal, there can be little doubt that those who were summoned, compounded to save further expense and trouble.

King Charles was crowned 2nd February 1625-6 and, as Mr. Grazebrook says, "the usual proclamations were made and a royal warrant issued to 'our right trusty and well-beloved Counsellor, Sir Thomas Coventrey, Knight, Lord Keeper of our great Seale of England' commanding him to 'make out writts under our great Seale of England directed to all and every Sheriffe and Sheriffs within our realme of England and dominion of Wales' to cause proclamation to be reade of the King's intention to be crowned and calling upon all men within the jurisdiction of the said Sheriffs, having forty pounds per annum in lands or rent, in their own hands or to their use in the hands of feoffees, and having had the same lands or rent for the space of three years to take upon themselves the order of Knighthood.¹ It cannot be doubted that these proclamations were regarded by the majority of those to whom they were addressed as having no real meaning, and nobody dreamed of demanding the honour which he was thus invited to obtain."

But a few years later the real object of this proclamation was disclosed. A Commission dated 29th May 1628 was issued to assess the fines of those who had made default, and on January 28th 1629-30, there was a second Commission "to treat and compound with all those who were willing to make fine with the King for their contempt in the premisses," and in July 1630 steps were taken to collect the fines of those who lived in the country.

On July 13th, 1630, a proclamation was made "for the ease of the subjects in making their composition for not receiving the order of Knighthood according to the law," and after stating that many had already compounded and paid their fines it proceeds, "Nevertheless because manie parties of this our Kingdom are soe remoate from our Cittie of London as the travell from thence would be very chargeable and troublesome and at this tyme dangerous, to draw them from their own dwellings to attend their compositions at our Citties of London and Westminster . In favour of our good and loving subjects, whome it concerneth, we have resolved to send our Commissioners to the severall counties of this our realme to whom they may with more ease and safety repaire for their dispatch ; whereof wee have thought fitt by these presents to give notice to all whome it may concern, hereby letting them knowe that if they shall neglect this our grace and not attend our Commissioners in their several counties, where they dwell, and with them make agreement on our behalfe, that wee shall leave them to the just proceedings of our laws and to that end to attend our Commissioners at Whitehall or our Courte of Exchequer ; and if it shall soe fall out to be more charge or trouble unto them, they shall have just cause to lay the blame upon themselves and to acknowledge our grace and favour if in tyme it had been accepted."

Special Commissions in accordance with the above proclamation were issued to the several counties. Those for Cheshire and Lancashire will be found in the following pages, together with the "Instructions to be observed in the execution of the Commissions touching Knighthood." The first Commission to Cheshire is dated 29th June 1631, the Commissioners being fifteen in number (see p. 199). The second Commission is dated 1632. The first Commission for Lancashire is also dated 29th June 1631, but the Commissioners are only ten in number (see p. 211). The second Commission is dated 1632.

A very interesting document relating to this subject is preserved amongst the Chetham Papers in the Chetham Library, Manchester (volume iii. p. 45), being the original warrant dated 30th August 1631 and directed to Humphrey Chetham, and desiring his attendance at Whitehall on October 22nd. As will be seen on reference to p. 223, Humphrey Chetham had not thought fit to compound in obedience to the first Commission in Lancashire,¹ and only did so, no doubt after receiving the following peremptory demand, on the 10th April 1632. His composition was £25.

Mr Humphrey Cheatom (sic) of Turton. You are By virtue of a Warr^t Directed to me from the Lordes of his most Ho^{ble} Privie Councell being Co^mmissioners appointed by his ma^{tie} to Compound wth those for not appearing at his Ma^s Crownenacon to take vpon them the order of Kn^t:hood Y^u are therefore to appeare before their Ho^{rs} at Whitehall on the xxth Day of October next Whereof yo^u are not to fayle as yo^u will answere the Contrarie at yo^r pill [peril]. Dated at yo^r howse this 30th Day of August 1631.

Yo^r loving friend to Command francis Taylor one of the messengers of his Mat^s Chamber.

It may here be noted that in the return of those who had compounded in Lancashire in 1631, it is expressly stated that whereas the various Compositions had been made at several places within the Hundreds of West Derby, Leyland, Salford and Blackburn in September 1631, that the other two Hundreds of Amounderness and Lonsdale were so "dangerously infected with the plague" that the Commissioners dare not call together any assemblies of people there nor dare they "at this time medle with the inhabitants of those twoe hundreths" (see p. 212).

make gree wth us for their fynes in this case and of their estates lyinge as well wthin this Countye as in any other Countye of this Realme w^{ch} have not already bene retorned or compounded wth us.

3. To that end y^w shall send for the undersheriffe Es[cheator & feodary] of the Countye for the high Constables Bay[liffe pettie-constables] and such other as in yo^r judgem^{ts} yee thinke fittest to give y^w true [informaçon herein] All w^{ch} or as many as yee shall send for, wee chardge & co^mmand [to attend you] accordingly and give their best assistance for this o^r service.
4. That besydes these informaçons yee shall instruct yo^r selves by the vewe of the Subsedye Rolles and the booke of the freeholders of the Countye, the Muster Rolles and the bookes for the collecçon for the poore in the se^mall pishes All w^{ch} wee co^mmand to bee brought & shewed unto y^w.
5. In makeinge yo^r Composiçons wth any yee shall not accept of any su^me under tenn pounde and yee shall raise it to a greater pporçon accordinge to the abillitye of the ptye compoundinge wherein wee direct yo^u in the gen^lall that hee whoe is sett att three pounde or under in lande maye bee contynued att the rate of tenn pounde unlesse yee shall see cause to inlarge that su^me but where the rate in the Subsedye booke is above three pounde in lande there the pporçon to bee att three and a half att the least and where the rate in the subsedy booke is att three pounde in goodde there the pporçon to bee a third pte lesse then those whoe are sette att lande And for the inlargeinge of these rates & pporçons wee leave it to yo^r good discreçons haveinge respect to the entire estate of the ptye in lande or goodde or otherwise w^{ch} maye enlarge his abilitye.
6. In makeinge these Composiçons yee shall have respect to the issues already retorned upon the ptye compoundinge for yo^r informaçon wherein the Sheriffe shall attend yo^u wth a schedule of those issues And yee shall lett them knowe whom it concernes that there is greate reason thus to enlarge the rates uppon the Composiçons, for that much money is due already to us by those yssues and much p^riudice growne unto us by their delayes to make their Composiçons and that the rates required of the abler men falleth out to bee much easier then to those of meaner qualitee.

7. Wth anye of those who are in Co^mission of the Peace you shall make noe Composiçon under the so^me of xxv^{li}. It beinge [to bee] p^rsumed that they are all of good estates answerable thereto although they bee otherwise under the valewe aforesaide And you shall sett theire rates at More if at the rates in the subserie booke yt shall [amount to more] accordinge to our dyrec^{ti}on aforesayde.
8. For yo^r better dyrec^{ti}ons wth whome you are to deale in this case yee are to take knowledge that all Baronett^e who were not knighted at o^r Corona^{ti}on or before, all knight^e who have received that order since that tyme, all who have land^e or rent^e to fortie pound^e yearely valewe although held in Soccage, or though held of Co^mon p^{er}sons or of us by a meane tenure All who have but an estate of freehold for lyfe onely, are lyeable to this fyne, Wee reservinge to o^r selfe the Composiçon wth all the Nobilitie that are lyable to the same.
9. If any shall refuse or neglect to come before you, or when they are come to make gree wth you on o^r behalfe, you shall certifie theire names and places of habita^{ti}on
10. If any shall alledge they have already compounded and payd and shall shewe their Tally or Constatt they are to be dischargd, or if they shall alledge they are not yett retorned by the Sheriffe or shall make any other excuse or give any other reason for their discharge or refusall y^w are to certifie the same p^articulerly wth the names of the p^{ar}ties and their se^{ve}rall allega^{ti}ons to the Lord^e o^r Co^missioners residinge here, that uppon considera^{ti}on had thereof such further course maye bee taken concernyng theis as shalbee agreeable to the lawe & best for our service.

11. When any doe compound wth you, y^w shall ether receive those monyes in hande or appointe them a shorte daye when to paye the same w^{ch} shalbe wthin tenn dayes after, to bee payd to such of y^w as wee shall appoint to be o^r Collector and yee shall make a certificate thereof alsoe p^ticulerly to O^r lord Treasurer or to O^r Court of Excheq^r under yo^r hande or under the hande of twoe of y^w, at least neither of y^u being O^r Collector and the Acquittances of o^r Collector testefying the receyet thereof shalbee ther dischargd^e whoe paye the same.
12. The monyes beinge receyved the Collector is to send the same unto o^r Receipt wthin tenn dayes after it is receyved, for the Countyes nere hand for the northe, and the more remote Countyes wthin thirty dayes, to bee payd to the hande of Edward Carne Esquier one of our Tellers there.
13. Yee shall certifye us or the Lord^e of O^r Counsell or O^r Lord Trêr [Treasurer] from tyme to tyme of yo^r p^oceeding^e as often as yee have cause and opportunitye, but the Co^mission itself to bee retorned as is thereby directed.
14. And yee shall lett them knowe whoe appeare before y^w that wee have renewed this our Co^mission out of our grace & favour for the ease of O^r Subiect^e whom it concerneth p^rsuminge that after soe solempne a resolu^on for O^r right herein as this hath receyved in O^r Court of Exchequer this hillary terme was twelvemonth, every man will readelye conforme himselfe thereto but those whoe neglect the same must expect the due p^oceeding^e of the lawe against them to their further trouble.
15. And whereas divers p^ons have by their pleas put themselves into the grace of our Court of Excheq^r for their composi^ons for not takeinge uppon them the order of knighthood And some others have put in dylatorie pleas w^{ch} have been overruled by our said Court, for these Cases you are to lett those p^ties knowe (if any such bee in yo^r Countie) That in favour of them and for avoydinge their troubell and expençe, they may repayre to you to make their fynes, and that you shall have power hereby to rate their sayde fynes as fully as our said Court of Exchequer And that the fynes by you beinge rated and payde shall bee to them a sufficient discharge And to that end you shall herewth receive a list of the names of all such psons wthin the sayde Countie as have putt in their pleas of what sort or kinde soeever.

List of the Freeholders

IN

Lancashire

THE RECORD SOCIETY.

1885.

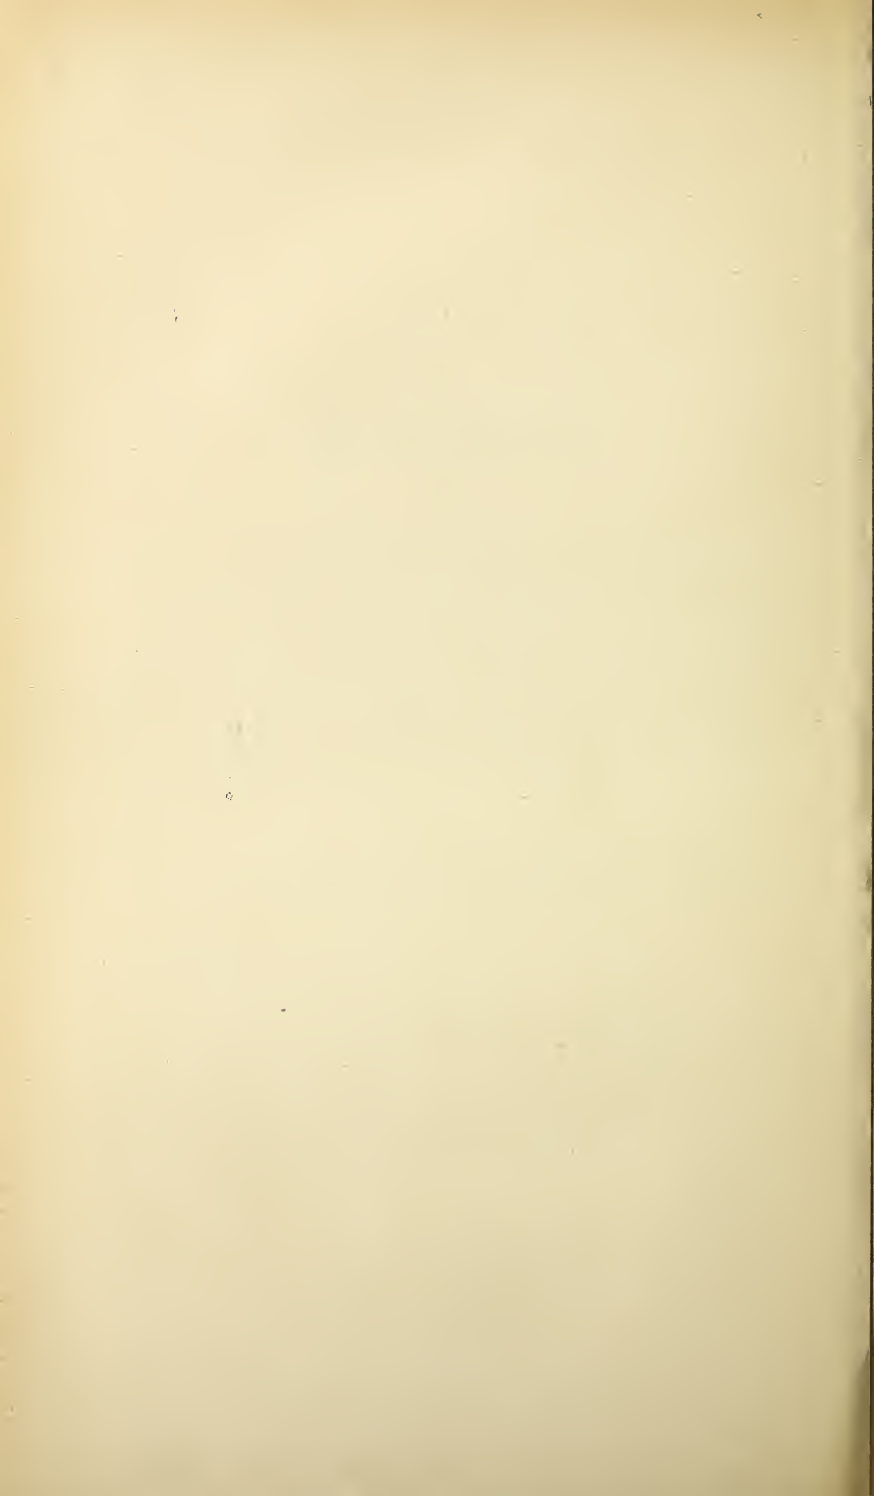

INTRODUCTION.

I MET with the following list of the Freeholders in Lancashire in one of the Harleian MSS. (No. 2042) in the British Museum. It is written on several quarto sheets of paper in a fairly clear hand, and has been placed at the commencement of the MS. volume above referred to, which is a folio, and bound up with it. As a guide to the names of those holding lands in Lancashire at the very beginning of the seventeenth century, this MS. has great genealogical value, and it seemed well worthy of being printed by this Society.

The occasional notes appended to some of the names, showing who were the Justices, &c., are useful, but it is not clear what divisions are indicated by the letters A, B, C, D.
